RATIONALE

The Alcohol and Drug Abuse Certification Board of Georgia, Inc. (ADACBGA.) recognizes that alcohol and/or other drug abuse treatment and criminal justice professionals working with the substance abusing criminal offender require much more focused skills. Addiction professionals, navigating within complex federal, state, and county criminal justice systems, develop unique competencies equipping individuals with a broader knowledge base to implement effective systemic treatment modalities.

Research indicates that alcohol and other drug abuse is a factor in most crimes and clearly shows that the provision of substance abuse treatment is effective in the reduction of criminal recidivism and substance abuse. Reductions of this nature present a significant cost benefit to society.

PREFACE

This document defines the role, purpose, functions and responsibilities of criminal justice professionals who work with the substance abusing criminal offender, and establishes a fair methodology for evaluation of competency. The credential defines minimum acceptable standards for counselor knowledge and skills, thereby assuring that criminal justice professionals meet an acceptable standard of competency.

The evidence is conclusive that addiction is highly correlated with criminal behavior and criminal involvement. Therefore, the adult & juvenile justice systems and providers of substance abuse treatment share a responsibility to assist drug-involved offenders in their recovery. It is this shared responsibility which has led to the development of a certification process for Criminal Justice Professionals who work with the substance abusing criminal offender.

There are certain knowledge areas and skills that are required to provide effective treatment and case management services to adult and juvenile drug involved offenders. Certified Criminal Justice Addiction Professionals must demonstrate the ability to provide effective services including assessment, case planning, case management, linking with other treatment, human services and criminal justice providers, monitoring, counseling, and advocacy. In addition, CCJPs must be knowledgeable of the rehabilitative services provided by the treatment and criminal justice systems. Knowledge is required in such diverse areas as pharmacology, treatment theories and modalities, involuntary commitment procedures, criminal case processing, court alternatives, and conditions of probation, to name a few.

The overlap of roles and responsibilities has resulted in greater communication and interdependence among the courts, adult and juvenile justice professionals, and the alcohol and other drug abuse treatment professional. Many corrections agencies routinely provide substance abuse treatment services. Substance abuse treatment agencies provide court liaison and monitoring services. Case management of drug-involved offenders is provided by substance abuse treatment staff. The development of a credential for Certified Criminal Justice Addiction Professionals is designed to strengthen the supervision and rehabilitative potential provided by the two systems.

Revised 09-2017

CERTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

This manual describes and outlines the requirements for certification for professionals desiring to be credentialed as Certified Criminal Justice Addiction Professionals from the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Certification Board of Georgia, Inc. The credential offered at the reciprocal level is Certified Criminal Justice Addiction Professional (CCJP). Those completing the certification process successfully are eligible to receive the international reciprocal credential from IC&RC, the ICCJP (Internationally Certified Criminal Justice Addiction Professional).

A Criminal Justice Addiction Professional is a person who, by virtue of special knowledge, training and experience, is uniquely able to inform, motivate, guide and assist persons affected by problems related to the use, abuse and/or addiction to alcohol and other drugs in a criminal justice setting. For the purpose of certification, a Criminal Justice Addictions Professional is defined as a person who has primary responsibility for client care with clients having a primary diagnosis of alcohol and/or drug abuse or dependence, prepares and reviews treatment plans, and documents client progress.

The CCJP applicant must hold a bachelor's degree and must have a minimum one thousand (1000) hours experience working in a criminal justice setting.

The skills necessary to perform the following functions in a variety of treatment settings must be demonstrated to complete certification as Criminal Justice Addictions Professional. The profession of addictions counselors working in criminal justice settings could be broken down into six major content areas, or domains. These domains are:

1. Dynamics of Addiction and Criminal Behavior
2. Legal, Ethical, and Professional Responsibility
3. Criminal Justice System and Processes
4. Clinical Evaluation: Screening and Assessment
5. Treatment Planning
6. Case Management, Monitoring, and Participant Supervision
7. Counseling
8. Documentation

PORTFOLIO REQUIREMENTS:

Applicants must live and/or work at least 51% of the time within the jurisdiction of the ADACBGA, or be within a nearby jurisdiction that does not offer IC&RC CCJP certification.

1. Experience: All candidates must hold either a CADC I, CADC II or a CAADC. Defined as supervised, paid or voluntary work experience in which the applicant has direct contact and responsibility for the mandated AODA client. The candidate must have verification of 1000 hours of work experience providing direct, supervised work within the criminal justice setting.
2. Education: Defined as formal classroom style education (workshops, seminars, institutes, in-services, and college/university work). One clock hour of education is equal to fifty (50) minutes of continuous instruction. For the purpose of certification, clock hours of education must be related to the knowledge and skill base associated with the criminal justice professional performance domains. A total of 90 hours of criminal justice specific education must be documented by copies of transcripts, certificates of attendance, inservice reports, etc. All candidates for CCJP certification must have a minimum of a bachelor's degree to be eligible. Official transcripts must be sent directly to the board from the college/university.
3. Supervised Practical Training: Defined as a supervised criminal justice setting which teaches the knowledge and skills of the criminal justice professional. This training may be part of the eligible work experience or may be completed under more than one supervisor or agency. A recommended minimum ratio is one (1) hour of supervision to ten (10) hours of practical experience. Examples of such training are observation, co-leading a skill area, solo experience, and supervision of process. A total of 100 supervised training hours must be documented, with a minimum of 10 hours in each of the CCJP performance domains.
4. Evaluations: The applicant must provide a supervisor with an acceptable score. The evaluations must be returned directly to the board by the evaluators and may only be returned to the applicant if they are placed in a sealed envelope with the evaluator's signature across the back seal.
5. Code of Ethics: The counselor must sign the code of ethics form provided in their application packet.

EXAMINATION

The tests administered by SMT Testing Company are based on the Job Task Analysis for Criminal Justice Addiction Professionals, conducted by the IC&RC in cooperation with ISO Quality Testing. The test used for reciprocal CCJPs in Georgia is the current IC&RC Criminal Justice Addiction Professional Examination. The test has been proved valid, reliable, and legally defensible. In order to sit for the test, the applicant must have met all application requirements and been approved to test by the board. Candidates will then submit a test registration form with the fee of $180, at which time a candidate guide will be sent along with instructions for scheduling the exam.

The examination is given at computer based testing centers throughout the state on an ongoing basis. Once registered candidates may schedule the exam on the date and at the location of their choosing.

Upon successful completion and a passing score on the written examination, the candidate will receive the CCJP certification. The CCJP is the IC&RC, CCJP Reciprocity level.

REQUIREMENTS FOR RECERTIFICATION

CCJP certification is for a period of two (2) years. CCJPs must apply for recertification before their expiration date. Professionals will be notified of certificate expiration via email approximately eight (8) weeks prior to certification expiration, however it is your responsibility to keep your certification in effect. The “Recertification Packet” is available for downloading at any time under the “Certification/ Applications” page of the website.

Candidates for recertification are required to provide documentation to the board that they have completed 40 contact hours of professional education and development during the previous two years, 5 of these hours must be in professional ethics. 6 hours must relate to the Criminal Justice Addiction Profession and should include training in the development of professional skills described in the performance domains for Criminal Justice Addiction Professionals.

Once a certification’s expiration date has been reached, recertification packets postmarked past that date will be assessed a $35 late fee. Each month past the due date additional consequences will be assessed for reinstatement. Continuing education requirements of 20 contact hours per year must be documented. Due to most workplace requirements it is strongly recommended you submit your recertification packet at least 30 days prior to the expiration date. There is no longer a 30 day grace period after the date of your certification expiration.

If, after all attempts to contact the certificant have failed, portfolios will be discarded once the certificate has expired for 3 years. A new application must be submitted and testing taken again. All fees submitted will be forfeited.

MISSION:

The Alcohol and Drug Abuse Certification Board of Georgia, Inc., is an independent, non-governmental, non-profit body.

This board was formed in 1992 to offer certification to Alcohol and Drug Abuse Counselors and to supervisors in alcohol and drug counseling and is based on the standards and methods offered by the International Certification and Reciprocity Consortium/Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse, a multi-state and nation body organized to promote uniform professional standards and quality for the substance abuse counseling profession and to give the profession greater visibility in the U.S. and abroad. As a result of membership in IC&RC/AODA, our certified counselors may relocate to other states, the military services and other countries, and transfer their certification with a minimum of effort and expense.

Our goal is to provide competency-based certification that will assure quality care for those affected by substance abuse. Certification is a voluntary process whereby professionals with a special interest in providing treatment to substance abusers and their families may receive recognition for their competency. The purpose is to establish professional standards which enable counselors, allied health professionals, health service providers, third party payors, employers, and the general public to recognize qualified professionals in this field. Certification offers evidence that standards of knowledge, skill, experience, and demonstration of competency have been met.

Since our original founding, IC&RC has developed international standards and testing for the addiction professional working in the area of criminal justice. ADACBGA. is offering this internationally recognized certification for professionals in Georgia who meet the standards for this credential.

ALCOHOL & DRUG ABUSE CERTIFICATION BOARD OF GEORGIA, INC.
ETHICAL STANDARDS FOR
CERTIFIED CRIMINAL JUSTICE ADDICTION PROFESSIONALS
(CCJP)

The ADACBGA, Inc) wishes to thank the National Association of Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Professionals (NAADAC) for the development of these Ethical Standards and for permission to use this amended version.

Specific Principles

Principle 1: Non-Discrimination

The CCJP shall not discriminate against clients or professionals based on race, religion, age, gender, disability, national ancestry, sexual orientation or economic condition.

- A. The CCJP shall avoid bringing personal or professional issues into the counseling relationship. Through an awareness of the impact of stereotyping and discrimination, the CCJP guards the individual rights and personal dignity of clients.
- B. The CCJP shall be knowledgeable about disabling conditions, demonstrate empathy and personal emotional comfort in interactions with clients with disabilities, and make available physical, sensory and cognitive accommodations that allow clients with disabilities to receive services.

Principle 2: Responsibility

The CCJP shall espouse objectivity and integrity, and maintain the highest standards in the services the member offers.

- A. The CCJP shall maintain respect for institutional policies and management functions of the agencies and institutions within which the services are being performed, but will take initiative toward improving such policies when it will better serve the interest of the client.
- B. The CCJP, as educator, has primary obligation to help others acquire knowledge and skills in dealing with the disease of alcoholism and drug abuse.
- C. The CCJP who supervises others accepts the obligation to facilitate further professional development of these individuals by providing accurate and current information, timely evaluations and constructive consultation.
- D. The CCJP who is aware of unethical conduct or of unprofessional modes of practice shall report such inappropriate behavior to the appropriate authority.

Principle 3: Competency

The CCJP shall recognize that the profession is founded on national standards of competency which promote the best interests of society, of the client, of the member and of the professional as a whole. The CCJP shall recognize the need for ongoing education as a component of professional competency.

- A. The CCJP shall recognize boundaries and limitations of their competencies and not offer services or use techniques outside of these professional competencies.
- B. The CCJP shall recognize the effect of impairment on professional performance and shall be willing to seek appropriate treatment for oneself or for a colleague. The CCJP shall support peer assistance programs in this respect.

Principle 4: Legal and Moral Standards

The CCJP shall uphold the legal and accepted moral codes, which pertain to professional conduct.

- A. The CCJP shall be fully cognizant of all federal and Georgia laws governing the practice of alcoholism and drug abuse counseling.
- B. The CCJP shall not claim either directly or by implication, professional qualifications/affiliations that they do not possess.
- C. The CCJP shall ensure that products or services associated with or provided by the CCJP or means of teaching, demonstration, publications or other types of media meet the ethical standards of this code.

Principle 5: Public Statements

The CCJP shall honestly respect the limits of present knowledge in public statements concerning alcoholism and drug abuse.

- A. The CCJP, in making statements to clients, other professionals, and the general public shall state as fact only those matters which have been empirically validated as fact. All other opinions, speculations, and conjecture concerning the nature of alcoholism and drug abuse, its natural history, its treatment or any other matters which touch on the subject of alcoholism and drug abuse shall be represented as less than scientifically validated.
- B. The CCJP shall acknowledge and accurately report the substantiation and support for statements made concerning the nature of alcoholism and drug abuse, its natural history, and its treatment. Such acknowledgement should extend to the source of the information and reliability of the method by which it was derived.

Principle 6: Publication Credit

The CCJP shall assign the credit to all who have contributed to the published material and for the work upon which the publication is based.

- A. The CCJP shall recognize joint authorship and major contributions of a professional nature made by one or more persons to a common project. The author who has made the principal contribution to a publication must be identified as first author.
- B. The CCJP shall acknowledge in footnotes or in an introductory statement, minor contributions of a professional nature, extensive clerical or similar assistance and other minor contributions.
- C. The CCJP shall in no way violate the copyright of anyone by reproducing material in any form whatsoever, except in those ways which are allowed under the copyright laws. This involves direct violation of copyright as well as the passive assent to the violation of copyright by others.

Principle 7: Client Welfare

The CCJP shall promote the production of the public health, safety and welfare and the best interest of the client as a primary guide in determining the conduct of all CCJP's.

- A. The CCJP shall disclose their code of ethics, professional loyalties and responsibilities to all clients.
- B. The CCJP shall terminate a counseling or consulting relationship when it is reasonably clear that the client is not benefiting from the relationship.
- C. The CCJP shall hold the welfare of the client paramount when making any decisions or recommendations concerning referral, treatment procedures or termination of treatment.

Revised 09-2017

- D. The CCJP shall not use or encourage a client's participation in any demonstration, research or other non-treatment activities when such participation would have potential harmful consequences for the client or when the client is not fully informed.
- E. The CCJP shall take care to provide services in an environment which will ensure the privacy and safety of the client at all times and ensure the delivery.

Principle 8: Confidentiality

The CCJP working in the best interest of the client shall embrace, as a primary obligation, the duty of protecting client's rights under confidentiality and shall not disclose confidential information acquired in teaching, practice or investigation without appropriately executed consent.

- A. The CCJP shall provide the client his/her rights regarding confidentiality, in writing, as part of informing the client in any areas likely to affect the client's confidentiality. This includes the recording of the clinical interview, the use of material for insurance purposes, the use of material for training or observation by another party.
- B. The CCJP shall make appropriate provisions for the maintenance of confidentiality and the ultimate disposition of confidential records. The CCJP shall ensure that data obtained, including any form of electronic communication, are secured by the available security methodology. Data shall be limited to information that is necessary and appropriate to the services being provided and be accessible only to appropriate personnel.
- C. The CCJP shall adhere to all federal and Georgia laws regarding confidentiality and the CCJP's responsibility to report clinical information in specific circumstances to the appropriate authorities.
- D. The CCJP shall discuss the information obtained in clinical, consulting, or observational relationships only in the appropriate settings for professional purposes that are in the client's best interest. Written and oral reports must present only data germane and pursuant to the purpose of evaluation, diagnosis, progress, and compliance. Every effort shall be made to avoid undue invasion of privacy.
- E. The CCJP shall use clinical and other material in teaching and/or writing only when there is no identifying information used about the parties involved.

Principle 9: Client Relationships

It is the responsibility of the CCJP to safeguard the integrity of the counseling relationship and to ensure that the client has reasonable access to effective treatment. The CCJP shall provide the client and/or guardian with accurate and complete information regarding the extent of the potential professional relationship.

- A. The CCJP shall inform the client and obtain the client's agreement in areas likely to affect the client's participation including the recording of an interview, the use of interview material for training purposes, and/or observation of an interview by another person.
- B. The CCJP shall not engage in professional relationships or commitments that conflict with family members, friends, close associates, or others whose welfare might be jeopardized by such a dual relationship.
- C. The CCJP shall not exploit relationships with current or former clients for personal gain, including social or business relationships.
- D. The CCJP shall not under any circumstances engage in sexual behavior with current or former clients.

- E. The CCJP shall not accept as clients anyone with whom they have engaged in sexual behavior.

Principle 10: Inter-professional Relationships

The CCJP shall treat colleagues with respect, courtesy, fairness, and good faith and shall afford the same to other professionals.

- A. The CCJP shall refrain from offering professional services to a client in counseling with another professional except with the knowledge of the other professional or after the termination of the client's relationship with the other professional.
- B. The CCJP shall cooperate with the ADACBGA. Ethics Committee and promptly supply necessary information unless constrained by the demands of confidentiality.
- C. The CCJP shall not in any way exploit relationships with supervisees, employees, students, research participants or volunteers.

Principle 11: Remuneration

The CCJP shall establish financial arrangements in professional practice and in accord with the professional standards that safeguard the best interests of the client first, and then of the PROFESSIONAL, the agency, and the profession.

- A. The CCJP shall inform the client of all financial policies. In circumstances where an agency dictates explicit provisions with its staff for private consultations, clients shall be made fully aware of these policies.
- B. The CCJP shall consider the ability of a client to meet the financial cost in establishing rates for professional services.
- C. The CCJP shall not engage in fee splitting. The CCJP shall not send or receive any commission or rebate or any other form of remuneration for referral of clients for professional services.
- D. The CCJP, in the practice of counseling, shall not at any time use one's relationship with clients for personal gain or for the profit of an agency of any commercial enterprise of any kind.
- E. The CCJP shall not accept a private fee for professional work with a person who is entitled to such services and still requests private services.

Principle 12: Societal Obligations

The CCJP shall, to the best of their ability, actively engage the legislative processes, educational institutions, and the general public to change public policy and legislation to make possible opportunities and choice of service for all human beings of any ethnic or social background whose lives are impaired by alcoholism and drug abuse.
